BOARD PLACES BAN ON DANCING

Order Says County School Teachers Must Not Attend Hops While in Emplyce of Trustees.

DISCUSS INSTITUTE PLANS

Instead of Individual Township Meetings May Decide to Hold Sectional Institutes in This City.

By order of the county board of education all school teachers in the employ of township trustees are prohibited from attending dances. In the future all the school "marms" and "masters" will be denied the pleasure of a dreamy waltz or a fascinating two-step. The order is very broad and in one big sweep takes in all the dances, including the "turkey-trot," the "Washington waddle" and "the grizzly."

The order putting the lid on dancing among Rush county's educators was passed yesterday at the regular meeting of the county board of education. The order states that "teachers shall not be allowed to attend dances during the school term or while in the employ of the township trustee." The order was unanimously passed by the board. County Superintendent C. M. George in speaking on the subject said: "We have had some very strenuous kicks from the school patrons regarding the teachers attending dances and it was necessary to put a stop to the practice." Mr. George said he thought there was at one time an order forbidding dancing, but it had evidently been laid on the shelf.

The board of education has received the school enumeration blanks. The enumeration must be taken between the tenth and twentieth of April and the report made to the county superintendent by the first Monday in May. The resolution of the Terre Haute school board was discussed at length by the board. The Terre Haute school authorities desire the aid of other school officials in obtaining a new law for the enumeration. Under their plan the enumeration of the children would be done away with and the county would pay to the State fund according to the daily attendance in the schools. The county board took no action on the question. They see one flaw in the proposed plan. They point out that it would work all right in the city school, but not in the country, where transportation facilities in bad weather cuts down the attendance.

The county board also discussed the proposition of holding joint township institutes. It was suggested that all the teachers of the county meet here instead of their individual townships and have sectional meetings. Instead of the monthly township institutes, the several meetings would combine and be held here. This plan would enable the teachers of primary, grammar and other grades to discuss problems of their particular work. The board took no action but all seemed in favor of the plan. It is pointed out that this plan of institute is worked successfully in other counties and it may be tried here. This is the plan used in Wayne county.

Last Saturday fifty-eight took the examination for teachers licenses. This is the largest number of applicants in several years and in all probability the largest number that ever took the examination.

FLESH TORN FROM HAND

David Miller Suffers Injury Due to Colt's Playfulness.

David Miller, a prominent farmer living near Manilla, received a painful injury to his right hand while leading a colt from the barn with a halter. As the colt came out of the barn it reared on its hind legs and struck Mr. Miller with its front feet, and in doing so it pulled the halter strap through his hand and a buckle which was fastened to the end of the strap tore a piece of flesh out of the palm of his hand as big as a dollar. The flesh was torn to the bone and the services of a physician were necessary to close up the wound, which took four stitches.

COMMERCIAL CLUB WILL HOLD BANQUET

Connersville Business Interests Will Entertain Number of Prominent Men at Feast.

JAMES E. WATSON TO SPEAK

Preparations for the Commercial club banquet go on, says the Connersville News. In addition to the committees that have been named already to look to certain departments of the work two other "squads" have been appointed and set to work. One, consisting of Fritz Conwell, W. E. Lowe and Wilbur Kidpath, will be responsible for the decorations and the other, composed of J. C. Mount, Will Thomas and Calvin Ochiltree, will provide for suitable music.

Those who are interested in oratory were pleased, some days ago, to learn that James E. Watson of Rushville and J. M. McIntosh of Indianapolis, would be among the speakers. Those whose minds run chiefly to hard sense and the things of business will be pleased now to know that General Manager Loeve of the C. H. & D. railroad of Cincinnati, and W. B. Calloway, assistant general passenger agent of the C. H. & D., and also the B. & O., likewise a Queen City man, will be guests.

IS IMPRESSED BY MISSION EXHIBIT

The Rev. W. H. Wylie Urges Attendance at "The World in Cincinnati" After Visit.

WORK OF MISSIONS REVEALED

The Rev. W. H. Wylie, pastor of the St. Paul M. E. church attended "The World in Cincinnati" yesterday. He was so forcibly impressed by the marvelous exhibition that he wishes to urge every Christian man and woman who can spare the car fare and time to witness the pageant. He says that the exhibit will reveal as nothing else could the striking contrast between heathenism and Christianity. The Rev. Mr. Wylie declared that the missionary review was so much more stupendous than he expected, that he was greatly surprised. He asserts that nothing was ever arranged which so plainly and simply impressed the value of missions both at home and in foreign lands.

Catherine and Francis, two daughters of the Rev. Mr. Wylie, accompanied him. A number of Rushville people are planning to go this week. The exhibit closes Saturday.

HAVE JUST CAUSE TO BEWAIL FATE

Farmers Are Delayed in Spring Work
by Unfavorable Weather—
Wheat is Damaged.

SEED CORN IS OF NO VALUE

Sap Will Not Run and Tillers Have About Despaired of Planting
Corn Crop.

Farmers of Rush county believe now that they have a just cause for kicking. The late spring gives promise of being even later and causing farm work, which has already been delayed, to be postponed, so long that the season will be one of disappointments and failures, rather than one of successful crops and good yields.

The wheat, according to the best reports, is in a terrible condition. The acreage, in the first place, is not very large because farmers have become disgusted with wheat in this climate from past experiences. Wheat crops many times in past years have been miserable failures which has resulted in a smaller number of acres being planted each year.

A great per cent of the acreage planted last fall is lost to farmers already, due to the very severe winter. The low temperature and the hard freezes ruined thousands of acres of wheat in Rush county. Rather than lose the use of the land for the season many farmers have already ploughed their wheat under and have planted or intend to plant as soon as the weather permits, another crop. Some farmers have not yet found opportunity for ploughing under the wheat which has been frozen out.

It is stated that prospects for a good wheat crop have not been so discouraging in years as they are at present. The yield will be smaller, it is estimated, than it has been in Rush county in many seasons past, and the grade of wheat will be much lower. That which survived the severe winter came through with its life, and that is about all.

Many farmers plan to sow their fields where wheat has been or will be ploughed under, in rye or barley, or plant corn. Many farmers are convinced from long experiences that rye is a better crop than wheat to raise in this climate as it has been in the last few years. Rye can stand much more cold weather than wheat, and the proceeds from a crop amounts to as much as the average crop does nowadays.

The lateness of spring this year has delayed the spring farm work so that very few ploughs have been taken out of their winter abode yet. Spring breaking has been started on very few farms in Rush county thus far. Usually farmers have much of their spring ploughing done at this time and are preparing to plant corn. Last year was an exception. There was enough nice weather in March for the ploughing to be done early, but the corn was not planted until late because April was a very bad month.

To add to the troubles of the farmer, it is announced that the seed corn for this season's corn crop is the poorest it has been in years. The various farm publications are sending out bulletins to their readers advising them to test their seed corn at once and if it will not grow to get a move on them and look around or they will not be able to procure any at all. The same condition that prevails here prevails throughout the middle west or in all the great corn growing States. Ohio is an exception, but they have felt a touch of the conditions existing here.

SNOW, RAIN, HAIL AND FROST-HICKS

The Rev. Irl Offers Varied Asscrt-ment of "Weather" For First Month of Spring.

TODAY LIKE PREDICTION

"Reactionary" Storm Periods Are to Follow on the Heels of "Regular" Ones.

So far this month the weather has been about like the Rev. Irl Hicks had predicted it would be. The two days of April which have elapsed could not be much worse, hence they agree with the reverend's prognostications.

For April he offers a greater variety than usual. Besides rain, snow, hail, thunder, lightning, clouds, there is to be some frost. The weather will consist mostly according to Mr. Hicks of regular storm periods and reactionary storm periods following closely on the heels of one another. Now listen to what he has to say:

A reactionary storm period falls centrally on the 3d and 4th, but it is more than probable that storms of thunder and rain will develop a day or two earlier, or one the first, with moon at full and on the celestial equator.

Change to much cooler, with snow to the northward, may be expected behind and after the storms. A seismic period, centering on the first, covers three to four days before and after that date.

A regular storm period covers the 6th to the 11th. Change to much warmer, with falling barometer and threatening clouds, will appear westward on the 6th and 7th, and during the 8th, 9th and 10th, these conditions will grow into active storms of rain, wind and thunder, as they pass eastward over central and eastern parts of the country. Hail, rain and thunder, with marked drop in temperature, and among the probabilities at this period—all followed by high barometer, cold nights and frost northward.

A reactionary storm period, central on the 13th and 14th. Threatening conditions, the temperature will rise very high, severe storms of wind, rain, hail and thunder will pass eastwardly touching the 14th and 15th. The western tangent of these storms will change to sleet and snow in the northern sections, with rising barometer, followed by clearing and by much cooler weather.

A regular storm period runs from the 18th to the 23d, having its center on the 20th. Steady wind currents from the south, low barometer, very high temperature, ending in electrical storms, heavy rains and destructive hail storms in various sections. Tornadoes will visit various parts, especially in southern regions during this period. Abnormally low readings of the barometer will indicate positive tornadoic danger with temperature falling to frost line in the clear nights following. Snow and sleet squalls will most likely visit many sections northward during this period. A marked seismic period is central on the 17th, involving the 15th to 21st.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 25th and 26th. Threatening and stormy weather, continued from the preceding period, will most likely lead up into the 25th and 26th, and thence forward into the closing days of the month, causing a long spell of stormy and unsettled weather. There will be a marked increase in the severity of storms on and touching the 25th and 26th, with possibly brief change to colder and high barometer following.

A regular storm period begins on the 28th and extends to May 4th, being central on May 1st. Sudden change to much warmer, with low barometer and storms of rain, with heavy hail, will be most natural on and about that date. A seismic period involves the 28th, 29th and 30th.

Probability of severe and destructive hail storms at various times and places during this month. On the approach of electrical clouds, note whether they are brassy or yellowish, shedding a glow over all objects on the earth and in the clouds, in which event you may prepare for the showers of hailstones.

TEETH KNOCKED LOOSE

John Vansickle Slaps Horse and it Kicks Back.

John Vansickle of Rush county, received a painful injury to his face Sunday morning while doing the morning chores at the barn of George Mount of near Moscow. The injury occurred when Mr. Vansickle in passing one of the horses gave it a gentle slap on the hip and the animal not taking it good naturedly responded to the gentle slap with a hard kick, which landed on the young man's face. A deep gash was cut in the face and several teeth were knocked loose.

FALLS OUT OF A MOVING BOX CAR

Elmer Jeffries Suffers Slight Injuries in Greensburg But is Able to Return Home.

SCUFFLES WITH COMPANION

Elmer Jeffries, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jeffries of 534 West First street, who fell off a box car at Greensburg late Sunday afternoon, was able to return to his home here yesterday and resume his work in a local furniture factory. His injuries were slight and caused the muscles of his left thigh to be paralyzed temporarily.

Jeffries and two or three other Rushville young men went to Greensburg Sunday morning to visit friends. All except Jeffries and Ed Campbell left for Rushville early in the afternoon. These two waited until five o'clock in the evening, when they boarded a Big Four freight leaving Greensburg for this city.

The two boys commenced scuffling and Jeffries got too near the open door of the car and fell out, bruising himself in several places. His companions jumped out of the car immediately and went to his assistance. Jeffries was taken to the home of Oscar Sparks and Dr. Thomas was summoned. He said the boys' injuries were not serious and he would be able to return to his home Monday.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker died this morning at their home west of the city. Burial will take place tomorrow afternoon.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual congregational meeting at the United Presbyterian church will be held in the church this evening at seven o'clock. At that time new officers will be elected and the annual reports of all the societies will be heard.

FUNERAL TODAY.

The funeral of Wm. Madison, age ninety-one, who died at his home in Knightstown Sunday, was held at the late home this morning at ten o'clock. Burial was made in Glen Cove cemetery in Knightstown. Mr. Madison was one of the oldest men in Henry county. Six children survive him.

WOMAN HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Miss Genevieve Parker of Shelbyville Arrested, Charged With Attempt to Murder Mrs. Elliott.

CHARGED IN THE INDICTMENT

Attack Took Place at Elliott Home
There on Evening of February 15.

Miss Genevieve Parker, a prominent dancing instructor and society favorite of Shelbyville, was arrested late yesterday at Shelbyville on a grand jury indictment charging her with intent to commit murder. The charges, it is said, are the outgrowth of an attack on Mrs. Helen Elliott, wife of J. Walter Elliott, well known here, at her home there, the night of February 15. Miss Parker was released on $1000 bail, bond being furnished by her uncle, William Major, a retired capitalist. Miss Parker was arrested at the home of Mr. Major. Mr. Elliott is the father of Will Elliott of Shelbyville and Mrs. Justine Millikan of Indianapolis. Both have many friends here.

The grand jury indictment did not mention the name of the person on whom the assault was committed, but Miss Parker's name has been so closely connected with the incident, in rumor, since the public learned of the assault that there was no mistaking on whom the alleged assault was committed.

Miss Parker was called before the grand jury last week, but refused to testify concerning the Elliott assault. The prosecuting attorney appealed to the judge, but he upheld Miss Parker in her contention and she was permitted to leave the grand jury room.

The Elliotts are in California, where they went soon after the assault became known. They are wealthy members of Shelbyville's most exclusive society.

The evening of the assault a masked woman entered the kitchen door at the Elliott home, carrying a basket of apples which, she said, the Misses Wingate had sent. Mrs. Elliott's suspicions were aroused for she had been conversing with them over the telephone only a few minutes before. She lifted the cover of the basket and saw a monkey wrench. She grabbed for it at the same time the masked woman did.

In the scuffle Mrs. Elliott lost her hold on the wrench and was knocked to the floor. She screamed as she fell and the stranger fled from the rear door.

A bottle of coal oil and several matches were found in the basket. It is believed the woman intended knocking Mrs. Elliott unconscious, to pour oil on her clothes and apply the match, leaving the inference she had caught fire while at work.

WOULD OUST SALOON

St. Paul Residents File Petition For Option Election.

The commissioners of Shelby county who meet in monthly session today were expected to order a local option election in Noble township, Shelby county, in which the western half of St. Paul is located. Petitioners who for the past few weeks have been circulating a petition calling for the election filed some Saturday. The petitions bear 152 signatures. It would have been necessary for only 79 to have signed it. The petition is aimed to put the only saloon in the township and in St. Paul out of business. The saloon is operated jointly by George Hess and Ernest Boyer. They were granted license last month.

Germes Spread in Skin

Eczema, Psoriasis and other skin troubles are caused by myriads of germs at work in the skin. Unless these germs are promptly destroyed they rapidly multiply, gnawing their way deep into the sensitive tissue. This is what causes that awful itch, and what seemed a mere rash may grow worse and develop into a loathsome and torturing skin disease with its years of misery.

Don't take any chances! Destroy the germs at the beginning of the trouble with that soothing and cleansing wash, the D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema. A 25c bottle will prove this to you.

GEN. FRED GRANT

Reported to Be Suffering Affliction of the Throat.

New York, April 2.—Major General Frederick Dent Grant, commander of the department of the east, is reported to have been stricken with an affliction of the throat similar to that which caused the death of his father, General U. S. Grant. The first news of the general's illness came when it was learned that he had been granted a four months' leave of absence.

SEARCH LIGHT ON THE EVERGLADES SCANDAL

Four Indictments Have Been Returned at Washington.

Washington, April 2.—On charges of presenting or approving false vouchers against the United States and making false certificates in order to obtain the approval and payment of such claims, the grand jury here has returned indictments against Charles E. Elliott, former chief of drainage investigations of the agricultural department; A. G. Moorehouse, former acting chief; Ray P. Teel, former assistant chief of irrigation investigations, and Frank C. Singleton, former accountant of the department of agriculture. The indictments grew out of the so-called Everglades investigation by the department of agriculture. The indictments charge that the defendants made, presented and certified claims of persons assumed to act as agents or engineers for the government claiming pay for services which actually had not been rendered. The charge is made that when the appropriations became exhausted for field work in certain states men were secured who were willing to advance the necessary money to carry on the work. To secure reimbursement the persons making the advances, it is charged, were appointed to or designated on the rolls of the department as agents or engineers, and were paid salaries until such time as the amount advanced had been repaid.

The department and the district attorney's office admit that the violations of the law are technical and that the department suffered no loss.

HATCH WON

He Beat Water Company That Shut Him Off For Arrears.

Washington, April 2.—Shutting off water of delinquent consumers to make them pay their bills is a practice of water companies disapproved by the supreme court. That the companies cannot cause an enforced drouth by such means to make consumers pay up old debts was declared by the court.

The decision was handed down in the suit of Albert L. Hatch of Coeur d'Alene City, Idaho, against the Municipal Water company. The Idaho supreme court ordered the water company to connect Hatch's pipes and furnish him water, although his rental was in arrears. This order the supreme court has sustained.

Cretans Are Barred.

Athens, April 2.—The judicial tribunal, which under the new constitution passes on the validity of elections, has rejected the claim of the Cretans in regard to their representation in the Greek chamber. The court, in making this ruling, states that the Cretan deputies cannot have seats in the Greek chamber, as their presence there would make the chamber itself illegal.

TYPHOID IN WAKE OF RECENT RIVER FLOOD

Logansport Is Facing a Serious Epidemic.

Logansport, Ind., April 2.—Dr. John Bradfield, secretary of the city health board, has issued warnings to the people regarding the water they drink. Logansport now being threatened with an epidemic of typhoid fever. Two deaths have resulted and there are seventeen cases in St. Joseph's hospital and as many more are scattered about the city.

Most of the cases are confined to the parts of the city that were inundated when the El and Wabash rivers went out of their banks. Wells were filled with the river surface water and it is thought they contain typhoid germs. Dr. Bradfield has sent samples of the river water and water from a dozen wells to Indianapolis to be analyzed, and he is awaiting reports. In the meantime everyone in the city is drinking boiled water.

If you expect to do any painting, you are interested—you should be—in the quality of the paint to be used.

In any given job of painting, labor represents practically two-thirds, material one-third the cost.

It stands to reason that with so much expense in labor, the enduring quality of the paint is all important.

Why have the painting done unless the protection and durability of the job is sought?

How is one to determine the true value and obtain paint that may be depended upon for durability?

HANNA'S GREEN SEAL PAINT IS NOT A SECRET. This paint has the printed formula on every package.

The makers have confidence and take pride in the quality and tell the public the composition of the paint.

JASONVILLE IS BADLY TORN UP

Voting to Become City Didn't Settle Trouble.

WETS AND DRYS ARE AT WAR

When the Town Recently Decided to Adopt City Form of Government It Was Thought the Twelve Saloons in the Place Had Won a Decided Advantage, but the Drys "Put One Over" in Form of Remonstrance.

Bloomfield, Ind., April 2.—A fight has developed that may make Jasonville dry notwithstanding the fact that it voted to become a city, which was believed would make it wet territory. The contest over the election developed into a contest between the wets and drys. The wets favored the city plan of government and the drys opposed it. The wet faction won, but by the time the ballots were counted the temperance faction had forces at work in every part of the place getting signatures to prevent the saloons from continuing. A remonstrance with 170 names was obtained and rushed to Bloomfield, where it was filed before the election returns were filed.

Both sides have engaged attorneys and the fight promises to be a hot one. The saloon interests say that the remonstrance contains many illegal names, and if it is purged there will be less than a majority of the voters' names on it. If the drys win the twelve saloons doing business in Jasonville will be forced to close.

NOT HIS BROTHER

Body of Man Murdered at Indianapolis Wrongly Identified.

Indianapolis, April 2.—Detectives are trying to find Frank Pierson and arrest him for the murder of James Leep, sixty-four years old, who, it is charged, was beaten to death in front of Pierson's home. Mrs. Pierson was a witness to the attack of her husband on Leep and she is now under arrest. When arrested Mrs. Pierson appeared to be in ignorance of the identity of the man, but said "it looked like" it might be Milton Pierson, a brother of her husband, whose home was in Muncie. The body was later identified as that of Leep.

H., that Seth Nichols, a sailor arrested in that city for carrying concealed weapons, had confessed to the police that it was he who murdered Dr. Helene Knabe in her apartments here on the night of Oct. 23 last. Nichols is reported to have declared he was paid $1,500 by a stranger to commit the crime. The police here are awaiting further details.

Indianapolis, April 2.—James Fry, chief of the state department of oil inspection, has turned into the state treasury $21,949.15 as the state's share of inspection fees collected by the department in January, February and March. The state gets one-half the total fees collected. The remainder goes to the deputy inspectors who do the work.

Close Contest in Thirteenth.

Indianapolis, April 2.—Indiana Republican leaders are turning to the Thirteenth district for another battle royal between the Taft and Roosevelt forces. The Thirteenth today will elect two delegates at Warsaw. The result is in doubt, there not being more than two or three votes difference either way.

IN DECIDING ON A SILO

it is important that you secure the longest possible service and value for your money. Every dollar you invest should represent a definite, safe purpose that will not require spending additional dollars for repairs and rebuilding. THE IMPERISHABLE SILO is permanent and enduring because it is built of vitrified clay blocks which can never decay. This silo is storm-proof, acid-proof, moisture-proof and the walls are fire-proof. Better than concrete, which is porous and unsatisfactory in preserving silage. Our silos possess incalculable strength. Patent channel blocks in which steel bars are buried in mortar, concealed from view and not exposed to air and chemical influences, contribute so much strength that the silo could be filled with wheat and stand the test perfectly. THE IMPERISHABLE SILO IS WARRANTED! Buyer cannot lose in such an investment.

Have You Seen the Latest Style Buggy?

If you have it is a sure thing that you have visited our store for that is the only place that you will see the styles that we are showing and selling. Don't let the other dealers tell you that they have buggies of the same styles that we carry, for they do not have them. We order our buggies built the way we want them and the result is they are like tailor-made clothes, and have a distinction about them that you cannot get from the man that wants to sell you the same old thing year after year, and expects you to take it regardless of Style. Be as particular about your buggy as you are your clothes and insist on getting the latest style. In other words buy your buggy from the store that keeps up-to-date.

Personal Temperance.

We have been reading a lot of late about the rebuff to the "dry" element of the Republican party in Rush county. There is little doubt but what it has all been written to arouse dissension in the ranks of the Republican party.

But when the facts are considered, it is very evident that the Republican party has more just reasons to invite the temperance man into its fold than has the Democratic party in Indiana. The Republican party has enacted all of the temperance laws of any consequences that have ever been made in the Hoosier state. That is not denied, even by the most rampant Democratic organs.

And that leads us to the natural conclusion that if there is a "dry" man in the Republican party who is disconsolate, he can find no consolation in the ranks of the Democratic party. That party offers nothing to persuade the temperance man that it is the party with which he should unite. It is dominated by a machine rule which is primarily one of brewery bosses. That is such a well recognized fact that there is no denial to it.

The recent Democratic State convention which moved off the stage of action like it was greased with best oil manufactured in Terre Haute breweries, is an exemplification of what any "dry" man might expect if he affiliated himself with the Democratic party. It is the party of Crawford Fairbanks, the right hand bower of Thomas Taggart, the prime mover in all that is done in the Democratic organization in Indiana.

There is not a Democratic newspaper in Indiana which will offer a denial to that.

And yet any number of Democratic newspapers—included in this number is the Jacksonian of this city—which have the audacity to observe continually that the temperance element of the Republican party is being treated unfairly by the party. We would be most willing to listen to advice of interests friendly to the Republican party, but not to those who have seen, and concurred in, the domination of the Democratic party by a brewery machine.

The question as to whether or not the Republican party should again father the county local option issue will be settled at the State convention of Republicans. The "dry" element of the Republican party did have in some counties, and will have in a number of others, the privilege of seeing that delegates are elected to the State convention which will favor the endorsement of county local option.

There are students of politics in Indiana who have been through the mill, and who are more capable of judging results beforehand than are those who have taken little interest in the trend of politics, who believe that the endorsement of county local option will sound the death knell of the party in Indiana in the election next fall. There are other Republicans who swear allegiance to county option, and declare that in that lies the redemption of the Republican party in the State.

If the party should be defeated by the adoption of a county local option plank, we can't see wherein the temperance element of the party, or any other party, would be benefited, since the defeat would mean the continuation of the control of the brewery Democratic party.

For the Republican party to win in the State by any means, with or without a county option plank, would mean a victory for temperance, because it is the Republican party which has been friendly to those who believe in abolishing the saloon. The history of legislation in Indiana will prove that.

We fear that too often the fight for county option is lead under that guise merely to advance personal interests, when the real object is not so much to win a supposed victory for temperance but merely to satisfy a personal whim or ambition.

Newspaper Errors.

Henry W. Grady, the gifted editor of the Atlanta Constitution, made it a rule not to correct any errors in his paper, whether made through misinformation or by typographical inaccuracy. He maintained that the public lost confidence in a newspaper that admitted it was not infallible. Through an error at one time a citizen of Atlanta was reported dead by the Constitution. He called at the newspaper office and complained that his business was injured as his patrons no longer looked him up, thinking him dead, and asked a correction. "I am very sorry," said Mr. Grady, "but the Constitution never makes a correction. The best we can do for you is to put you in the birth column and start you over again."

Errors sometimes occur in the rush of getting out a daily paper, though they are few indeed, and generally are humorous. For instance the Suffolk Weekly Times gravely announces that "On account of the overcrowded condition of our columns this week the births and deaths are unavoidably postponed."

The ambition of a newspaper is to be accurate, and the paper attempting deception for political purposes soon becomes known and loses its influence. As a rule papers are reliable and accurate, and the man who "never believes anything he sees in the newspaper," never believes anything his neighbors tell him and he doesn't have to, for he knows it all already.

We wish to "point with pride" to our assertion yesterday that we needed a little more snow. Never before was this Colyum vindicated so forcefully by the weather man. For this we owe him a debt which we can repay only by omitting any unfriendly comment concerning his prognostications.

Please observe in the future that we follow this rule.

But this morning, there came a message to this Colyum which was so terse and to the point that it frightened ye ed. It predicted confusion would be the result if the Pillar of Falseness ever again suggested snow. So you see what's coming to us. It bore the sign of the black hand. Huh!

We naturally supposed it had been sent by one of the fellows shoveling coal. Coal, yo' know, is at a premium now because a strike has been declared and local burners have been hasty about getting in a supply. Now an early settlement of the dispute is certain.

The most modern method of receiving a curtain lecture is to put a dictograph under the bed for use in divorce court.

Answer to Jamsey: It is perfectly all right, little one, for you to refer to your new opera glasses as rubber articles, but we think it rather presumptuous of you to ask this Colyum to print it.

We wot that the meow of the pussy willow you may have heard is no more of a harbinger of spring than is this snow today.

We don't concur in this wail about the girls' hats being so ugly this spring. The girls all seem to look pretty well in them, and that's all that is necessary.

One of the reasons why we are glad to sell Wooltex garments is because their beauty is built into them and stays there.

You know how quickly the average ready-made suit or coat loses its fresh, neat appearance.

Ready-made garments will not hold their looks like custom-made garments unless they are made like them.

Wooltex tailoring is better than any custom work except the very best—and it is quite as good as that.

As for materials—nothing but pure wool and guaranteed silk.

That's why Wooltex coats, suits, and skirts, as one woman expounded it, "stay new."

As for Wooltex styles—come in and see! The greater your desire for elegance, tastefulness, exclusiveness and distinction, the easier we can please you.

The Portola offers as the first picture tonight a powerful Biograph drama entitled "For His Son." The other picture is an Edison comedy, "The Stolen Nickel."

The Princess has for the first picture tonight a Melies drama, "The Mortgage." It is a thrilling story of the oil fields. The other is a Kalem western comedy, "Things Are Not What They Seem." Tomorrow "Two Old Pals," a great animal picture, will be shown.

The Palace offers tonight an American film entitled, "The Winning of La Mesa." The little cow-town of La Mesa was controlled by old Tex Garvin, proprietor of the Garvin gambling place. He kept Pretty Peggy about the saloon to jolly up the "boys" when the goddess of fortune frowned. Then came a handsome young minister with his mother and sister and when one of the cowpunchers insulted the sister Peggy's reformation occurred. She went to live with the minister's family and the "boys" all promised to join the church but Garvin, loving Peggy, drank himself into a murderous fury and determined to revenge himself upon the minister. A catastrophe was averted by the timely work of Peggy. The other picture is a little comedy entitled "The Newsy and the Tramp." Both promise to be good pictures.

with all the courage and daring with which a Goddess might look upon a man. "Nothing but my weakness and your strength."

"Yes, that's it, but do not count too much upon the one or the other. Great God, how can I keep away from you; life on the old terms is insupportable. I must go."

"And where?"

"Anywhere, so it be away."

"And when?"

"Now."

"It would be death in the snow and in the mountains tonight. No, no, you cannot go."

"Well, tomorrow then. It will be fair, I can't take you with me, but I must go alone to the settlements, I must tell your friends you are here, alive, well. I shall find men to come back and get you. What I cannot do alone numbers together may effect. They can carry you over the worst of the trails, you shall be restored to your people, to your world again, you can forget me."

"And do you think," asked the woman, "that I could ever forget you?"

"I don't know."

"And will you forget me?"

"Not so long as life throbs in my veins, and beyond."

"And I too," was the return.

"So be it. You won't be afraid to stay here alone, now?"

"No, not since you love me," was the noble answer. "I suppose I must; there is no other way, we could not go on as before. And you will come back to me as quickly as you can with the others?"

"I shall not come back; I will give them the direction, they can find you without me. When I say goodbye to you tomorrow it shall be forever."

"And I swear to you," asserted the woman in quick desperation, "if you do not come back they shall have nothing to carry from here but my dead body. You do not alone know what love is," she cried resolutely, "and I will not let you go unless I have your word to return."

"And how will you prevent my going?"

"I can't. But I will follow you on my hands and knees in the snow until I freeze and die unless I have your promise."

"You have beaten me," said the man hopelessly. "You always do. Honor, what is it? Pride, what is it? Self-respect, what is it? Say the word and I am at your feet, I put the past behind me."

"I don't say the word," answered the woman bravely, white faced, pale lipped, but resolute. "To be yours, to have you mine, is the greatest desire of my heart, but not in the coward's way, not at the expense of honor, of self-respect—no not that way. Courage, my friend, God will show us the way, and meantime good night."

"I shall start in the morning."

"Yes," she nodded reluctantly but knowing it had to be, "but you won't go without bidding me good bye."

"No."

"Good night then," she said extending her hand.

"Good night," he whispered hoarsely and refused it, backing away. "I don't dare to take it. I don't dare to touch you again. I love you so, my only salvation is to keep away."

CHAPTER XVIII.

The Strength of the Weak.

Although Enid Maitland had spoken bravely enough while he was there, when she was alone her heart sank into the depths as she contemplated the dreadful and unsolvable dilemma in which these two lovers found themselves so unwittingly and inextricably involved. It was indeed a curious and bewildering situation. Passionate adoration for the other rose in each breast like the surging tide of a mighty sea, and like that tide upon the shore it broke upon conventions, ideas, ideals and obligations intangible to the naked eye, but as real as those iron coasts that have withstood the waves' assaults since the world's morning.

The man had shaped his life upon a mistake. He believed absolutely in the unquestioned devotion of a woman to whom he had been forced to mete out death in an unprecedented and terrible manner. His unwillingness to derogate by his own conduct from the standard of devotion which he believed had inhabited his wife's bosom, made it impossible for him to allow the real love that had come into his heart for this new woman to have free course; honor, pride and self-respect scourged him just in proportion to his passion for Enid Maitland.

The more he loved her, the more ashamed he was. By a curious combination of circumstances, Enid Maitland knew the truth; she knew that from one point of view the woman had been entirely unworthy the reverence in which her husband held her memory. She knew that his wife had not loved him at all, that her whole heart had been given to another man, that what Newbold had mistaken for a passionate desire for his society because there was no satisfaction in life for the wife away from him, was due to a Advice About Stomach Trouble and How to Relieve Them.

Do not neglect indigestion which may lead to all sorts of ills and complications. An eminent physician once said that ninety-five per cent. of all the ills of the human body have their origin in a disordered stomach.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be among the most dependable remedies known for the relief of indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing and healing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. They are rich in pepsin, one of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine. The relief they afford is very prompt. Their use with persistency and regularity for a short time tends to bring about a cessation of the pains caused by stomach disorders.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets help to insure healthy appetite, to aid digestion, and thus promote nutrition. As evidence of our sincere faith in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give you entire satisfaction, we will return you the money you paid for them, without question or formality. They come in three sizes, price 25c., 50 cents, and $1.00. fear lest without his protection she should be unable to resist the appeal of the other man which her heart seconded so powerfully. If it were only that Newbold would not be false to the obligation of the other woman's devotion, Enid might have solved the problem in a moment.

It was not so simple, however. The fact that Newbold cherished this memory, the fact that this other woman had fought so desperately, had tried so hard not to give way, entitled her to Enid Maitland's admiration and demanded her highest consideration as well. Chance, or Providence, had put her in possession of this woman's secret. It was as if she had been caught inadvertently eavesdropping. She could not in honor make use of what she had overheard, as it were; she could not blacken the other woman's memory, she could not enlighten this man at the expense of his dead wife's reputation.

Although she longed for him as much as he longed for her, although her love for him amazed her by its depth and intensity, even to bring her happiness, commensurate with her feeling, she could not betray her dead sister. The imposts of honor, how hard they are to sustain when they conflict with love and longing.

Enid Maitland was naturally not a little thrown off her balance by the situation and the power that was hers. What she could not do herself she

BABY TORTURED BY ITCHING

Its Suffering Keeps Whole Family Awake.

Try This Remedy At Our Risk.

Children with eczema not only cannot sleep, on account of the awful itching, but their crying keeps parents and other members of the family awake.

The relief they long for can be had by applying Saxon Salve, our new skin remedy. It stops the terrible itching at once and makes them comfortable. Then they and the rest of the family get a chance to sleep.

Saxon Salve does more than give relief. It is a harmless yet powerful healing remedy and sinks into the diseased skin, destroying the germs and soon clearing away all signs of the eruptions, leaving the skin soft and smooth. Marked improvement is noticed in the first few days of treatment.

If Saxon Salve does not do all we claim, we give back your money.

John M. Schenck, Fountaintown, Ind., recommends Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. He says "I was troubled with asthma about four years, so bad I could not sleep. I took everything I heard of for asthma and doctored also but got no relief until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It helped me from the first dose, and the continued use cured me. It is now a long time since I was cured, and I have no symptoms of a return of the disease." F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists, Rushville, Ind.

could not allow anyone else to do. The obligation upon her must be extended to others. Old Kirkby had no right to the woman's secret any more than she; he must be silenced. Armstrong, the only other being who was privy to the truth, must be silenced too.

One thing at least arose out of the sea of trouble in a tangible way; she was done with Armstrong. Even if she had not so loved Newbold that she could scarcely give a thought to any other human being, she was done with Armstrong.

A singular situation! Armstrong had loved another woman, so had Newbold; and the latter had even married this other woman, yet she was quite willing to forgive Newbold, she made every excuse for him, she made none for Armstrong. She was an eminently sane, just person, yet as she thought of the situation her anger against Armstrong grew hotter and hotter. It was a safety valve to her feelings, although she did not realize it. After all, Armstrong's actions rendered her a certain service; if she could get over the objection in her soul, if she could ever satisfy her sense of honor and duty and obligation, she could settle the question at once. She had only to show the letters to Newbold and to say: "These were written by the man of the picture; it was he, and not you, your wife loved," and Newbold would take her to his heart instantly.

These thoughts were not without a certain comfort to her. All the compensation of self sacrifice is in its realization. That she could and did not somehow ennoble her love for him. Even women are alloyed with base metal. In the powerful and universal appeal of this man to her, she rejoiced at whatever was of the soul, rather than of the body. To possess power, to refrain from using it in obedience to some higher law, is perhaps to pay oneself the most flattering of compliments. There was a satisfaction to her soul in this which was yet denied him.

Her action was quite different from his. She was putting away happiness which she might have had in compliance with a higher law than that which bids humanity enjoy. It was flattering to her mind. In his case, it was otherwise; he had no consciousness that he was a victim of misplaced trust, of misinterpreted action. He thought the woman for whom he was putting away happiness was almost as worthy, if infinitely less desirable, as the woman whom he now loved.

Every sting of outrage, every feeling of shame, every fear of disloyalty, scourged him. She could glory in it; he was ashamed, humiliated, broken.

She heard him savagely walking up and down the other room, restlessly impelled by the same Erinyes which of old scourged Orestes; the violator of the laws of moral being drove him on. These malign Eumenides held him in their hands. He was bound and helpless, rage as he might in one moment, pray as he did in another, no light came into the whirling darkness of his torn, tempest tossed, driven soul. The irresistible impulse and the immovable body the philosophers puzzled over were exemplified in him. Whilst he almost hated the new woman, whilst he almost loved the old, yet that he did neither the one thing nor the other absolutely was significant.

Drastic Reform in Express Business Proposed.

WORKING OUT THE DETAILS

Recent Hearing Before the Interstate Commerce Commission Has Resulted in Agreement Between Commission and Express Companies Whereby Methods of Operation of Latter Will Be Revised.

Washington, April 2.—The interstate commerce commission and the express companies have practically reached an agreement as to reforms to be instituted in the express business. These reforms will be of far-reaching importance and will, it is predicted, revolutionize the entire express business of the country.

The reforms include a simplified form of receipts, a system that will prevent express companies from charging at both ends, the extension of delivery limits in many towns and cities, and several other suggestions of relief advanced by commercial organizations and shippers generally throughout the country. But more important than even these reforms will be a system of express charges which the interstate commerce commission is now working on. The commission has evolved a zone system of charges which it is said will approximate the charges under a parcels post service in this country.

When the commission undertook its investigation of the overcharges, thousands of complaints had been received alleging overcharges and other abuses. It was shown, for instance, that one company in a single day had made 4,000 undercharges and overcharges, and another had made 3,000 undercharges and overcharges in twenty-four hours, there being in this total 2,988 overcharges.

THE ANANIAS CLUB

Tammany Follower Proposes the Colonel For Membership.

New York, April 2.—In the statement which Colonel Roosevelt made on Sunday night after his return from Detroit he quoted ex-Congressman Riordan of Tammany as saying of the primary election:

"There never was a time, even in the long ago when corruption in politics was more common than now, that Tammany would have dared such bare-faced violation of law and decency as was openly practiced by the Republican organization in New York city Tuesday night."

"I never said any such thing to Colonel Roosevelt or to anybody else," said Daniel J. Riordan, Tammany congressman from the Eighth district, when asked about this. "I was not out of my district on primary day, and I have no knowledge of what happened in the city."

Plaza "Came Back."

Guayaquil, Ecuador, April 2.—General Leonidas Plaza has been elected president of Ecuador. General Plaza was commander of the government troops which opposed the recent revolutionary movement. He was president from 1900 to 1904, minister to the United States in 1905, and served also as minister to other countries.

Mexican Rebels Combine.

Jimenez, Mexico, April 2.—Special messengers have reached here bringing Emilio Zapata's avowal of allegiance to General Orozco, thus uniting all rebellious elements in Mexico and joining the northern and southern rebellion under one flag. Zapata now holds all of Morelos and most of Puebla.

Teddy's Travels.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., April 2.—Colonel Roosevelt started today upon another stumping tour. He speaks at Louisville, Ky., tomorrow night, and at Parkersburg, W. Va., on Thursday, with numerous brief talks at towns along the way, and will return to New York Friday night.

Mexico's Serious Loss.

Mexico City, April 2.—The original declaration of independence of the republic of Mexico was destroyed with other priceless documents when the city palace of Iguala, state of Guerrero, was destroyed by fire.

ALL IS QUIET IN MINING FIELDS

State Constabulary Find Their Services Begging.

NO TROUBLE IS LOOKED FOR

While the Strike Order in the Anthracite District Generally Has Been Obeyed and the Mines Are Closed, Miners Are Refraining From Acts of Violence and Operators Are Making No Attempt to Keep Mines Going.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 2.—Only engineers and pump runners are at work, and none of the collieries has made any effort to mine any coal. Mine workers' leaders report that the suspension order generally has been obeyed. Officials of the big coal companies confirm this report and say they are not making any attempt to induce men to work and that only enough steam to run the pumps and the fans is maintained at the mines. It is expected that some of the independents or the smaller companies may try to mine some coal.

Patrols of the state constabulary keep on the move through the mining towns, but there has been no call for their services. Good order prevails generally. A number of imported men were taken to some of the collieries to act as guards, but they were not molested.

John M. Mack, secretary-treasurer of the Wilkesbarre-Scranton district is here from Cleveland. He predicts that the operators will offer a flat increase of 10 per cent when the Philadelphia conference is held. "This offer," he declares, "may not be the first to be made, but it eventually will come and no doubt will be the limit of the concessions offered by the operators."

Recognition of the Union.

From the viewpoint of the union leaders, a wage increase will not be sufficient to restore peace. The union will waive all demands if recognition is granted. Officials of the union believe that the struggle will settle itself down to a question of recognition, the men strongly advocating it on the one side and the companies bitterly opposing it on the other.

According to Mack's statements President White is playing a diplomatic game with President Baer. He declared that telegrams which had been exchanged between these officials had not been made public for the reason that each was waiting for the other to move. "Certain conditions," said Mack, "were so distorted by New York newspapers that it was made to appear that the miners were responsible for the breaking off of negotiations. To show that we were not responsible, President White suggested another conference, and the policy committee stood back of him. White telegraphed to Baer, and when the latter accepted the invitation to another conference he did it with two provisos. The telegrams exchanged were not made public because White expected Baer would take this step, and Baer evidently expected the same thing of White. It is a little diplomatic game in which White has moved carefully and cleverly."

FLOODS GROWING

Situation in Mississippi Valley Growing Serious.

St. Louis, April 2.—Rains throughout the Missouri and Mississippi valleys have brought additional damage to property and misery to the unfortunates in the flood-covered sections of the bottom lands. The worst of the flood has not been reached, as reports from the north tell of heavy rains and still higher water. From many points come reports of property loss, ruined farms, death of stock and fears of coming peril.

Cairo, Ill., city of flood horrors, is on the verge of being depopulated, as hundreds of men, impressed into the work, are straining every effort to bolster up the weakening levee. Millions of dollars in property has already been damaged, and if the water continues to rise, death and desolation will be the result in a few days.

The entire town of Hickman, Ky., is keeping watch night and day, the people fearing to sleep lest their homes be washed away. The most alarming report showing the extent of the high water and the probable damage unless the rivers subside soon, comes from Kansas City, Mo., where three feet of water stands in the bottoms of the houses. The water has destroyed or ruined thousands of dollars worth of goods in large wholesale and retail houses.

The flood in Nebraska is growing worse rapidly. Twenty-four transcontinental trains bound for Pacific coast points from Chicago are tied up at Fremont because of destroyed bridges and submerged tracks.

Dike Went Out.

Kankakee, Ill., April 2.—Fifty thousand acres of river bottoms were inundated when the Hack dike on the Kankakee river went out and flooded the towns of Shelby, Water Valley and Thayer in Indiana. Brown dike is in peril and is expected to go out at any time. If it does 100,000 additional acres will be flooded.

are laid at the door of the weather man. Much of the corn was late and heavy rains during September, October and November prevented drying out on the stalk and even where the seed corn was husked early and placed in drying sheds, the large amount of humidity in the atmosphere prevented thorough curing. Along late in October and November there were a number of nights away below the freezing point, thus destroying or greatly impairing the germinating power of much of the corn selected for seed.

This is not the end of the farmers' misfortunes. The maple molasses is to be very short this spring because weather conditions have not been ripe for the sap to flow. A few camps in Rush county have been open several weeks but the flow of sap has been very unsteady and irregular.

At first it was thought this season would be ideal for sugar making. The hard freezes of the winter, it was said, would provide the right sort of conditions for a good flow. But the ground froze so hard that there has not been any weather warm enough to melt the ground. The temperature has never been high enough to thaw out the ground as low as it froze during the winter months. It has generally been the case that the ground has thawed on the south side of the tree, but on the north side of the tree the ground has remained as hard as a rock almost. This has resulted in a poor flow of sap. The good thaw is necessary for a good flow, and the general belief among farmers that it is now late for a general thaw to bring the desired results.

VISIONS OF OIL FIELD

Drillers Work in Fayette County With That View.

A test well, which is being sunk in the hope of striking oil, near Robinson's Chapel, northeast of Connersville has now been drilled to such a depth that the stockholders all feel a peculiarly deep and lively interest in the operations and are daily hoping for some certain evidence of oil. The operation was mentioned, a few months ago, when it was new, and soon after a locator had been on the scene and vouchsafed the assurance that there was oil in the ground in that vicinity, about fifteen hundred feet deep. He said this depth was approximately that at which the product would be found, though it might be a hundred feet less or more.
